Prologue

Marriage is the most important values of life that maintains the stability of society and the continuation of life and complete the process of life. Marriage is one of the most important issues concerning the virtue of this generation because this generation is full of young people and they are the future and they should consider the idea of marriage early because it is better and more useful to them. And now with the current circumstances, marriage has become the last option for young people, that because of the harsh conditions of life. The encouragement of early marriage establish the pillars of conscious life and a bright future and benefit for married persons and the community. Enjoying the power and youth is only one opportunity in the whole life and we can not have this opportunity and since the clock is running we are losing this power and youth. The best way to use the power and youth wisely is to get married in early age and with that a bright future will provide for married couple and their children and they provide a bright future for their community in future.
